CHEEKTOWAGA – Four families facing hard times this holiday season were treated to a holiday shopping spree and lunch Monday with members of the Cheektowaga Police Department.

The event was made possible by The Hope Project of WNY, Target, and Marketing Mayor, LLC.

Members of the Cheektowaga Police Benevolent Association treated the kids to a shopping spree at the Target store on Walden Avenue and lunch at Salsarita's on Union Road.

The police say that some of the kids lost their home to a fire or lost a parent in recent months. This is the second year the police partnered with The Blue Mittens Project to make this event a reality.

Most of the funds for the event were raised through the Cheektowaga PBA, and the sale of the God Bless the Police signs at police headquarters.
