CHEEKTOWAGA, N.Y. (WIVB) - Early Tuesday afternoon, a vehicle crashed into Athens Restaurant in Cheektowaga.

The restaurant is located on Harlem Rd.

News 4 viewer Angel Sojka shared a photo of the crash scene.

Cheektowaga police say the foot of the 30-year-old driver, who had a learner's permit, slipped off the vehicle's brake pedal before the vehicle went throughdrove through the front window.

A licensed driver was in the passenger seat.

The general manager of the restaurant says the man was pulling up there to get lunch when the incident occurred.

No one was injured.
