Police are investigating eight shots fired right outside Walden Galleria in Cheektowaga. It happened just outside of the Macy's shortly before 3 p.m. on Sunday. No injuries were reported.

Police are investigating a shooting outside Walden Galleria in Cheektowaga, NY.

It happened just outside of the Macy's shortly before 3 p.m. on Sunday.

According to police, there were eight shots fired but it doesn't appear that anyone was injured.

"We had an incident involving at least two different groups. We can confirm that shots were fired. We believe no one was struck today," Cheektowaga Police Sgt. Shawn McAdams said.

Police say one of the suspects fired shots on foot before getting into a vehicle that drove away. At least two vehicles were involved.

"We're sectioning off part of the parking lot here that we believe that we have some physical evidence, other than that, we're allowing the shoppers here to enter their cars and leave the parking lot here." McAdams said.

The mall remained open while police investigated.
