CHEEKTOWAGA, N.Y. (WIVB) - Cheektowaga Police are investigating a burglary where suspects posed as utility workers and claimed they needed to check the water pressure.

Officials say it happened in a neighborhood just south of St. Joes Hospital. They ask anyone who might have witnessed this suspicious activity or might have security camera footage to call them at 686-3510.

Police are also asking the public to remind elderly family members to never let utility workers in the house without proper ID.
